

Law Enforcement

can help create a Socially Conscious Animal Community by:

Recognizing that pets are vital to a family's wellbeing and integral to the family unit

Partnering with welfare organizations and human service providers to provide resources that support pets and their people

Understanding animal welfare laws and policies

Understanding whether education, support, or enforcement is the most appropriate response to animal welfare concerns

Acknowledging limitations, barriers and disparities in access to care for animals

Thoughtfully responding to situations involving animal cruelty and neglect
